Overview

Kathryn Lecusay is an associate in the New York office of Federman. Ms. Lecusay's practice focuses on advising owners, investors, lenders and operators in connection with acquisitions, dispositions and financings of traditional real estate and hospitality properties. She has experience assisting clients in sophisticated real estate transactions, including multi-state "one-off" and portfolio transactions that involve mixed-use projects, hotels, restaurants, shopping centers, office buildings and other commercial properties. Prior to joining Federman, Ms. Lecusay worked primarily in litigation representing clients in property-related litigation, commercial litigation, and labor matters. While attending law school, Ms. Lecusay interned for Justice Peggy A. Quince at the Florida Supreme Court and for Magistrate Judge Patrick M. Hunt at the United States District Court for the Southern District of Florida. Ms. Lecusay is active in civic matters both as a volunteer through New York Cares and as a mentor of a middle-schooler through the TEAK Fellowship Program.
