

Residential Real Estate

Residential Real Estate Counsel for High-Value Properties

Attorneys in Federman's residential real estate group advise on the acquisition, sale, leasing and financing of exclusive primary and secondary residential properties valued in the tens of millions of dollars throughout New York City and its suburbs, the east end of Long Island, Southern Connecticut, coastal Rhode Island, Maine and Massachusetts.

Guiding Buyers and Sellers Through Complex Residential Transactions

For individuals either selling or buying a primary or secondary residence, Federman's lawyers draw upon decades long relationships with real estate brokers, managing agents and mortgage brokers to quickly and efficiently navigate the closing process. We assist our clients and their brokers on board and mortgage packages, as well as preparation for board interviews, where applicable. Federman helps its clients in evaluating the health of a project or a building and secures rights for its clients in the event the client is not delivered the property in the condition required by agreements. Federman's residential real estate attorneys have closed some of the most significant single-family townhouse acquisitions and sales in Manhattan and Brooklyn.

Deep Experience with Condominiums and Historic Co-Ops

Federman lawyers have handled multiple transactions in many of the newest condominium buildings as well as many of the most historic co-operatives in New York City. This experience serves the firm's clients well, as there are few surprises in transactions that are highly personal to individual clients and their families. Our clients value discretion and Federman lawyers often serve as authorized representative for the firm's clients throughout the closing process to protect the privacy of clients when purchasing residential property.

Support for Condominium Sponsors and Developers

For condominium sponsors and developers, Federman assists in quickly selling out inventory to achieve financing benchmarks by streamlining the closing process and working closely with the developer's marketing and mortgage financing teams.
